To Whom It May Concern:

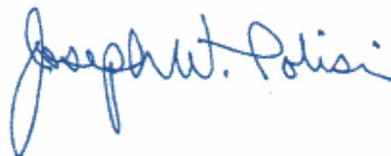

I am very pleased to provide this recommendation letter for Dr. Julie Jordan, who devoted 30 years at The Juilliard School as a part-time faculty member of its Evening Division, where she taught piano classes from 1985 to 2015. During that time she displayed an ability to teach students of all ages and levels of competency, from beginner to advanced masterclasses, and developed popular courses including The Piano Concerto, Solo and Collaborative Piano Repertoire: A Comparative Study, and Playing to Listen, Reflecting through Recording.

Dr. Jordan is a dedicated and engaging teacher, as evidenced by her student evaluations. She always made an effort to involve all of the students in her courses in performance and discussion and was able to inspire and impart her love of music and the piano to those she taught.

At Juilliard, Dr. Jordan has been a graduate student, College Division Teaching Fellow, and Evening Division Piano Faculty, and enthusiastic alumna.

We greatly appreciate Dr. Jordan's many years of significant contributions to The Juilliard School.

Sincerely,

Joseph W. Polisi
President
